NEUROLOGIST – SLEEP DISORDERS

The Ochsner Sleep Division of the Department of Neurology is seeking a board certified or board eligible sleep physician with primary certification in neurology to join its established AASM accredited 8-bed sleep center. This rewarding sleep medicine practice has an active and well respected practice with a large referral base. Responsibilities include sleep study interpretation, outpatient sleep clinic, and some inpatient neurology with minimal call from home. Research and teaching of medical students, internal medicine, and neurology residents is encouraged. Additional opportunities for faculty appointments through Tulane, Louisiana State University, and our unique collaboration with the University Of Queensland School Of Medicine in Australia.

Ochsner Health System's growing 21-physician Neurology team includes neurologists with subspecialty expertise in stroke, neurointensive care, movement disorders, epilepsy, pain management, neuroimmunology, neuromuscular disorders, and neuroimaging. Ochsner's Department of Neurology is a recipient of the HealthGrades Stroke Care Excellence Award with a five-star ranking. In addition, we ranked #1 in Louisiana for the treatment of stroke. We also have an EMG and accredited Sleep lab.

Ochsner Health System is a physician-led, academic, multi-specialty, non-profit healthcare delivery system. We employ over 800 physicians, and our system includes 8 hospitals and 38 health centers. We also enjoy the advantage of practicing in a favorable malpractice environment in Louisiana. Please visit our website, www.ochsner.org for more information.

New Orleans is a cosmopolitan, historic city with a pleasant climate, unique architecture, multiple medical schools and academic centers, professional sports teams, world-class dining and cultural interests, and world-renowned live entertainment and music.
